DEDICATION MRS. HARLAN

This year the 1969 Washingtonian is dedicated to Mrs. Harlan as a way of thanking her for all she's done for us.

Mrs. Harlan has taught at Washington for six years. She is associated with the English department and is highly regarded by her fellow teachers.

As yearbook advisor she has really put up with a lot; very late deadlines, lost pictures, pictures that never got taken, cake crumbs all over the room, missing cameras, balancing the budget, and the near fatal censoring of last year's Washingtonian.

Aside from the yearbook, Mrs. Harlan has been favorite teacher for several consecutive years. She is easy to talk to and many of her former students have made her an unofficial counselor to discuss their problems and their joys.

To you, Mrs. Harlan, the Washingtonian is respectfully dedicated.

The Washington Huskies, a pre-season favorite to repeat as MVAL champs, more than lived up to that prediction. Finishing the season with an unblemished 5-0 league record, this year's varsity extended Washington's win streak to 10 games.

The Huskies opened defense of their 1968 title with a 19-0 win over Kennedy's Titans. Rick Barbero was the workhorse for the Huskies as he carried the ball for 175 yards. Quarterback Dan Oden came into his own with an 8 out of 14 performance for 125 yards and 2 touchdowns.

The Huskies continued their pursuit of the title with a thrilling 13-7 victory over Mission. The Huskies played a strong running game, aided by a hard-hitting defense to stop the big running game of the Warriors, led by Northern California's leading rusher, Les Pennelly. The Washington linebacking corps of Mike McClellan, Bruce Anest, and Tom Zimmer combined to smother the Warrior rushing game and hold Pennelly to his lowest game of the year. The winning touchdown came after an alert defensive back, Bob Baptista, picked off a Mission pass. It was clearly a Washington night all the way around. An estimated crowd of 7,000 saw the Huskies at their finest.

As the age-old rivalry between Washington and Logan got underway, it was apparent that the favor of Huskies were not going to have an easy time. As if two Logan touchdowns were not enough, a freakish safety gave the Colts more than a two touchdown lead at half time. As the teams left the field at half time, Washington's dreams of the MVAL Championship were slowly diminishing.

But the Huskies came back to completely reverse their first-half performance. Dan Oden, inspiring Washington to its comeback, was 8 for 8 in the second half, and with an 18 yard pass to Rocky Snyder, the Huskies were finally on the scoreboard. The next time they got the ball, they went 80 yards. Jim Faulkner came on in the second half, brilliant running for 29 of them. With the ball on the three, Zimmer was the one to lead a Snyder boot, the Huskies had another touchdown to go.

The winning drive started with 2:32 left in the game. Oden completed passes to Randy Leal and Bucky Snyder, with Tom Zimmer running for another first down. With 33 seconds to play, Dan Oden swept left end for 3 yards and gave the Huskies a 19-15 victory.

A 23-6 win over Newark left the Huskies 4-0 on the season. Tom Zimmer led the Husky attack with 2 touchdowns and 88 yards rushing in 22 carries. Washington took the opening kick off and drove 69 yards for the game's first score. Remarkable performances by Dan Oden, Tom Zimmer, Rick Barbero, Bucky Snyder, Mike McClellan, and Bob Locke gave the Huskies a 16-0 lead at the half. In the second period Tom Zimmer capped a 66 yard Washington drive with 6 points, and Snyder converted. The decisive win over Newark meant the Championship was OURS!

WHS, the 3-time league champions, finished the season undefeated with a victory over Irvington. The first half resulted in a 38-0 Washington lead. The Huskies scored 6 of the 9 times they had possession of the ball. Fullback Tom Zimmer climaxed a brilliant 3 year varsity career, ending off 141 yards in 17 carries and scoring on runs of 21 and 37 yards. Quarterback Dan Oden had one of his most productive evenings through the air. He connected 6 times for 115 yards and 3 touchdowns.

WHS took the opening kickoff and marched downfield 78 yards to score in 8 plays. Zimmer culminated the drive, testing straight up the middle, untouched, into the end zone. End Bucky Snyder, who boosted his league-leading receptions to 19 for 264 yards, caught the PAT. Oden looped a pass to wingback Len Fudenna behind the line of scrimmage, and he ran 48 yards to score. Throughout the game the Huskies continued to accumulate an insurmountable lead.

With an undefeated season and the MVAL Championship in their hands, the Huskies marched triumphantly off the field.

JR. VARSITY

Going undefeated with a 6-0 record, our JUNIOR VARSITY was GREAT. They were toughened up by practices with varsity, and their spirit was high for every game. The team consisted of people with great ability—so great that the whole first string were called up to varsity for the remaining league games. The J. V.'s scored an average of 40 points per game, and in two games scored over 50 points, while scoring well over 60 in another.

FRESHMEN

This year a freshman team was formed to give more boys a chance to participate and to later provide a more powerful and experienced varsity team. The freshman team, under the direction of Coach Norm Stelle, Coach Bill Lightfoot, and Coach Craig Preisendorf, proved to be tough, giving up only eight points. The Pups finished the season undefeated, capturing the championship and placing five players on the all-league team: Tim Armstrong, Jim Fernandez, Frankie Fudenna, Walt Roeber, and Johnnie Woodcock.

"Rhinceros", the opening production of the 1968-69 season, was done in a theatrical, cartoon-like style to emphasize the exaggerated, absurd approach of the playwright, Eugene Ionesco. The characters, in the absurd circumstances given them, conform to the standards of their society by changing into rhinceroses. In our not-much - less - absurd society, given to us by the ad men of the world, this play should cause us to question the accepted and to accept the questionable.

BLOCK W

This year the Boys' Block "W" Club reached its highest membership since the initial organization of the club in 1898.

The highlight of the year's activities was the initiation which resembled those of ancient Roman days.

The members of the club feel they owe the success of the year to their advisor, Coach Rob Vares, for his time and cooperation and his close relationship with the members and officers.

The Deca Club is composed of senior OWE students. The club meets every Friday during their Merchandising class third period. They go on field trips, all concerning business and the operation of business. For these field trips they use club funds which have been earned by working together to sponsor activities, such as the October Halloween Dance. The club also earns money by selling candy on campus.

In March some of the members will be attending the DECA State Convention in Long Beach. They will compete with other DECA clubs in contests, such as Advertising and Sales.

The final curtain falls; the house empties, and nothing is left but the ringing of enthusiastic applause in your ears. Now the backstage crews go about their unrewarding work of striking the set, and cleaning up the stage, which was, but a few moments ago, alive with people and action. Mixed feelings are involved, as happy anticipations for the cast party are clouded with the conclusion of hours of hard work, and the ending of a show. This is the backstage part of theatre.

Not everything in the Performing Arts area involves major productions. Each student in the Independent Study and Workshop classes has a chance to perform in the Festival of the Arts. While students performed on stage, the Art Department exhibited students' work in the foyer.

DEBORA BOUTERSE

When I came to America from Holland, I expected to land in Michigan and was very surprised to find myself in Fremont. The period of adjustment in a new environment, school, and home took a while, but I suppose it would be for most.

Washington High School has taught me so much, in a way that is hard for me to express in English. A culture is difficult for anyone to relate to others. Here in this school, I learned the meaning of school spirit. In Holland, there is no "extra-curricular activities" as such. My life has never been so busy. In Girls' Athletics I have participated in many sports; in performing arts, I have been in orchestra and ensembles; and most important I have met many new and wonderful people.

I will always remember Washington; Fremont; United States, warmly thinking of these things. It was indeed an honor for me to be a student here, and thank you all for making my year here a beautiful and memorable one.

SEPPI OVERLAET

My name is Seppi Overlaet. I come from Antwerp, a harbor in Belgium.

I have two sisters and three brothers. I live in the Dutch speaking part of Belgium. My mother and my father are both teachers. My hobbies are music, walking, and medieval arts.

I like San Francisco and the California hills. The American school system is a whole new experience for me.

VERA LUCIA CHAHON

My name is Vera Lucia Chahon. I was born in Rio de Janeiro, Brasil, and I am 17 years old. I love classical and modern music. I had ten years of piano and I began to play guitar, but studies kept me too busy, so I had to stop.

Languages and arts are other subjects that delight me. I had six years of English and one of French. I intend to continue studying French and begin to take classes of German when I go home.

I have not made up my mind yet about my career. I'll probably choose languages or social work.

I've always desired to travel abroad to know different cultures, people, and customs. I enjoy meeting new people and learning their ways of living.

I have a great faith in Exchange Student Programs because they contribute to a better understanding amongst people of the world.

I appreciate this opportunity of living in the U.S. and learning its customs.

TAWEEPUN SANPRASERT

Despite several unfortunate incidents including a misunderstanding with the Fox Security, it can be said that Tal has had little difficulty in adjusting to American life.

Taweepon Sanprasert, as he is formally known, is an exchange student from Thailand under the sponsorship of the American Field Service.

Formerly a guest at the Mahler's home, he is now living at the home of junior Cliff Glendenning.

Tal has an active and enjoyable life at Washington; his activities include being an outstanding varsity soccer player.

A. F. S.

The AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE CLUB has been very active this year. The club has planned many activities, starting off in October by celebrating the birthday of our exchange student from Thailand. Fund drives in November provided the club $600 for its exchange program.

Noon activities, such as tug-o-war, guest speakers, and a faculty hula-hoop contest made the February AFS Exchange Week a success.

The AFS Club's goal of the needed $1800 has almost been reached, so we may have an exchange student next year.

"Kismet" is a fairy tale which takes place one day in ancient Baghdad. The Wazir of Police and his wife of wives, Lalume, enter the Bazaar of the Caravans on a litter carried by four slaves. The Wazir is concerned with the need for money. Lalume has arranged for a loan if the Caliph will marry the Three Princesses of Ababu.

A poor Poet is captured by Jawan and his Brigands and is brought to their desert tent.

Thinking the Poet is Hajj, the Beggar, Jawan orders the Poet to remove a curse from his head and reunite him with his missing son. Without knowing how, the Poet agrees for 100 pieces of gold.

Marsinah, the Poet's daughter, buys many things with her unexpected money and comes upon old Omar and the Caliph, who is disguised as a gardener. Their attraction for one another is immediate.

The Poet, after purchasing four slave girls to attend him, is arrested by the Wazir's Police for possession of stolen gold which was given to him by Jawan.

Brought before the Wazir, the Poet is sentenced to have his right hand cut off.

With Lalume's help, and the grace of Allah, Jawan realizes that the Wazir is his missing son. Impressed with his magic, the Wazir makes the Poet an Emir. The Poet then enjoys the Wazir's harem and is fed Rahad-adlakum by Lalume.

After moving into the palace to take her place as an Emir's daughter, Marsinah tells her father of her love for the Gardener. Accidentally, the Caliph see Marsinah walking through the Wazir's harem. So that the Caliph will marry the Princesses of Ababu, the Wazir quickly makes Marsinah one of his own wives.

The Caliph, having lost the girl he loves, decides that he will select a wife from those who come for his hand. The Princess Zubbediya of Damascus performs a belly dance in true Middle-Eastern fashion.

Princess Samaris of Bangalore does a formalistic Hindu dance that describes the marriage of her destiny to the Caliph.

Finally, the three Princesses of Ababu pantomime a hunt to demonstrate how they intend to keep the Caliph's table bountifully supplied with wild game.

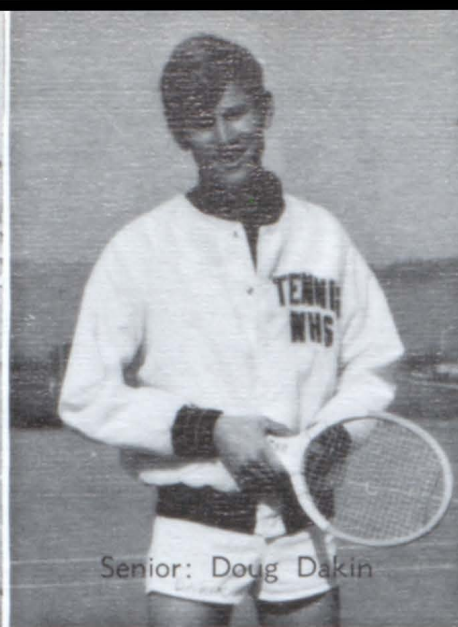

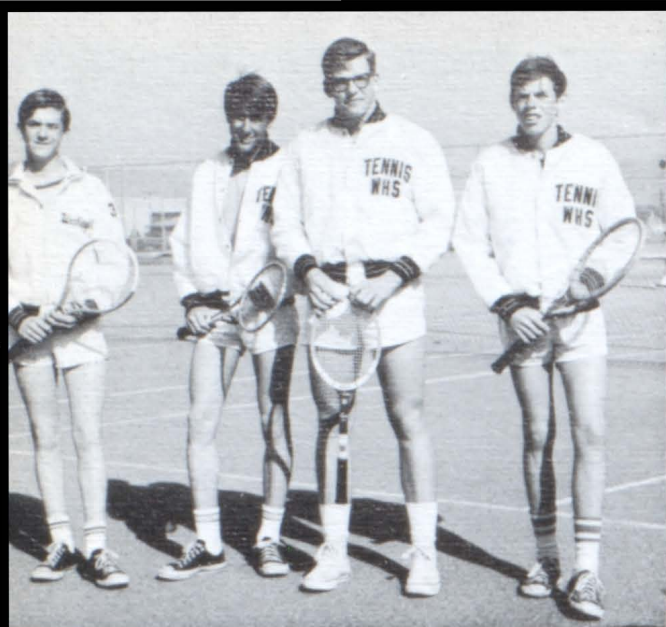

Before the Caliph can make a decision, the Poet, in a feat of magic, drowns the Wazir. Marsinah and the Caliph are reunited; the Poet is sentenced to a lifetime of hard labor with Lalume . . . and they all live happily ever after.

The leads and full cast take bows for the 156 member company as the final curtain falls to a standing ovation from a very pleased full house.

Senior Class Representative

This year the officers and advisors of the Senior Class organized many Senior activities, along with money making projects for the Senior Ball. We, the Senior Class, give a special thanks to Mr. Agee and Mr. McCaslin for all the time and effort they devoted to our class this year.

GRADUATES OF 1969

"Those were the days, my friends, we thought they'd never end."

We are Graduates at last. There were many times when some of us thought we wouldn't make it, but we did. Many of us have been together since grade school. We have come under the influence of many people, and have been involved in experiences that may affect us the rest of our lives. We came with anticipation. The teachers crammed all the knowledge they could into our limited high school years. They tried to prepare us for the future and although we may still be naive, it is a beginning and all dreams must start somewhere.

Four years ago, we entered high school as timid Freshmen, whose only goal was to become upper classmen. We soon became involved in the routine of high school life. At first it was a new and exciting feeling, but soon it became homework, tests, and lectures.

Sophomore year started with us looking down on the Freshmen as "so young." The Seniors didn't seem quite so old and impressive anymore. The biggest excitement the first day was seeing friends you hadn't seen all summer. It wasn't long, though, before we were once again counting the minutes until brunch, lunch, and finally the end of school. We anxiously awaited the "too short" weekends and the "too few" holidays.

As Juniors, we began to feel older because we were more than half way through. Our thoughts turned toward the future and the question "what after graduation?" We were well established in school by this time and the under-classmen were beginning to look up to us.

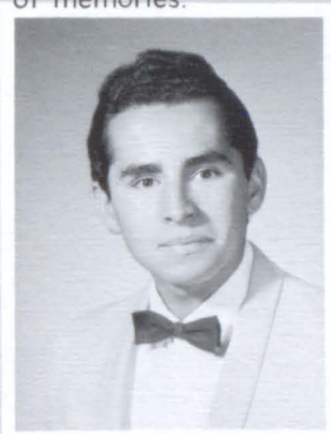

After a summer that was far too short, Senior year began. This was the time we had been anxiously awaiting for the past three years. There was no longer anyone above us to look up to and being Seniors didn't hold as much prestige as we had anticipated. There were the final games, rallies, tests, and dances, along with the long complicated college applications and the frustrations of trying to find a job. It was a year of memories.

Then, finally, it is graduation night, the climax of twelve years of hard work. Everyone self-conscious in caps and gowns, giggling nervously. Pomp and Circumstance begins to play, the signal to march out on the field. The procession goes slowly with everyone taking his assigned chair. The speeches begin, no one really listening. Instead, most of the class is thinking about the past years and then realizing that it is the last time that the class of '69 will all be together. Nostalgia creeps in but is stopped by the delivery of diplomas. This is really the end. Your name is called. You step forward, receive it, and march back to your seat. You are now an alumnus of Washington High. You watch the others in your class walk up, the boy you fought with in the third grade, your best friend in the seventh, and the first person you went out with. The music begins and it is now time to sing the Alma Mater for the last time. The mood is one of happiness mixed with fears of new responsibilities. "Those were the days, Oh yes, those were the days."

Now we are free with uncertain plans for the days to come. The future is filled with fears, frustrations, hopes and dreams. There will be many unexpected changes in our lives in the years to come. We are the hope of tomorrow. The problems facing us are difficult ones. Will we meet the challenge?

Bank of America winners are nominated by the various departments within the school. A scholarship committee then deliberates. # NATIONAL MERIT

Receiving Letters of Commendation were Barbara Carroll, Barbara Ferrell, John Deubert, and Ginger Koger. These letters are awarded to students who score in the high percentile in the NMSQT but not quite high enough to be Semifinalists. They are highly regarded by colleges.

Bill MacGregor had the honor of becoming one of the National Merit Finalists this year. The principal function of the NMSQT is to identify students of exceptional intellectual promise. Semifinalists become finalists after they have been endorsed by their schools, have submitted a Semifinalist Information Form, and have substantiated their NMSQT scores on a separate examination. Every Finalist is awarded A Certificate of Merit in recognition of his distinguished performance, and each is given careful consideration for a Merit Scholarship. The selection of Merit Scholars involves the evaluation of each Finalist's ability, achievement, and goals.

D. A. R.

This year the DAR award was given to Melody Montgomery. This award is presented to the senior girl with the highest record of good citizenship both in her school and community. It was the job of the senior girls to decide who they thought deserved this honor.
